

Matthew R. Bartlett, class of 1982, earned a Bachelor of Science Degree from Grove City College in 1985, a Master of Arts and Science Degree from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in 1996, and selected for Air War College at Maxwell Air Force Base in 2005.

Colonel Bartlett has held many positions in his military career. As a trained pilot and officer, Colonel Bartlett served as an instructor weapons system officer, an instructor pilot, and a developmental and operational test director. Colonel Bartlett currently serves as Deputy Director of Operations at the Headquarters Air Force Operational Test and Evaluation Center, Kirtland Air Force Base, New Mexico.

Throughout his distinguished career, Colonel Bartlett has earned the Meritorious Service Medal, the Air Force Commendation Medal, the Combat Readiness Medal, and the National Defense Service Medal.

Colonel Bartlett is currently a command pilot with more than 3,600 hours in both the F-111F as a weapons system officer and the B-1 as a pilot.