Thomas J. Martwinski, class of 1981, earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Computer Science from Westminster College 1985, a Master of Business Administration Degree from Marymount University in 1998, and a Master of Science Degree in Information Management from Marymount University in 1999.

Mr. Martwinski has been working in the technology industry his entire career. He currently is the Chief Operating Officer for InScope International. In his current position, Mr. Martwinski is responsible for all delivery and operational aspects of running a $50 million company while maintaining a diverse base of clients throughout the U.S. and abroad.

Throughout his career, Mr. Martwinski has supported critical programs for the U.S. Department of Homeland Security as well as the Internal Revenue Service. In addition, Mr. Martwinski was responsible for the development and delivery of the Do Not Call program under Lockheed Martin for the Federal Trade Commission.

Mr. Martwinski is a recognized leader in the IT industry as he has earned the eGov award in 2009 as well as the Hammer Award from Vice President Al Gore.